The Erate program require internet filtering... which I favor.

However, there is no way to keep some of these students out of internet sites that should be restricted. They always seem to find a way.

I don't have a solution, but other techies might have some ideas.